Four letter word

Billy sits alone in his two million dollar home,
He is a star, he's got it made.
He is rich and beautiful, so everyone agrees,
Something's missing.

Jenny is a teacher in a secondary school.
And she's giving everything.
Sometimes in the evening, with a wine glass in her hand,
She is falling down.

No surprise, alibis!

You know it's true, you need it, too.
Everybody knows - everybody needs love!

Jim is not the brightest, but he still is looking for
A woman who would make him feel
That he is a someone in the eyes of someone else
That he's not nothing.

Me I'm often lonesome, so I try to love myself,
Like my neighbour, so they say.
Folks, it's harder than it looks and I am mighty scared!
I need a helping hand.

No surprise, alibis!

You know it's true, you need it, too.
Everybody knows - everybody needs love!
